Write a reply to the following email that you've received from your English friend.

Dear friend,

How are you doing? I hope you are fine. I just want to tell you that I'm having some problems with my parents; they don't let me go out at night, or invite my friends. They're always complaining about my hairstyle, the way I dress or the kind of music I listen to. They're making my life terrible! What about you? Do you have any problems with your parents? How do they treat you? Tell me about your relationship with them.

Dear friend,

How are you doing? I hope you're fine. Reading your email made me feel sad but also thankful. I just realised how much lucky I am for having such ~~all~~ amazing parents. In fact, they are very understanding and supportive. They respect my ideas, dreams and ambitions and encourage me to achieve them. They also welcome my friends all the time and accept the way I dress as long as I don't cross "the red line". Furthermore, when it comes to the matters that affect me, my parents ask for my opinion and take it into account while making their decisions. They also have a good sense of humour. I actually love sharing jokes with them. Besides, my mother is my best friend. She listens to my daily life issues with an open mind and gives me advice all the time. Concerning my father, although he ~~is~~ gets angry sometimes, I learn so much from him. He teaches me how to take up responsibilities, be an active citizen and remain strong through difficult situations.

Last but not least, I hope that you and your parents will get closer as soon as possible. All you have to do is <sup>to</sup> listening to each other and understanding every member's needs.
